

Where will we make the learning visible?
When will we reconnect with this learning?

What do we want learners to know, understand and do?
What prior knowledge will they need to access?
What is the key vocabulary required?
Do we need to provide explicit teaching?
Would this launch be more effective in multiple parts? (relaunch)

How will we structure the sharing?
How will we create the conditions for productive discussion?
What prompts might provoke further thinking?
Where will we capture our new learning and vocabulary?

RELAUNCH (if needed)

Is the majority of the class stuck at the same place?
Is there a prompt that would move the whole group forward?
Might a small group or individual need a short relaunch?

How will we create opportunities for productive struggle?
What are the different pathways to the learning goal?
How will we enable and extend all learners?
What misconceptions or challenges may arise?
How will we organise the learners?
How will we organise the resources?
